

Kidblog

Overview

<http://kidblog.org/home/> This is a safe site for younger students. The teacher has complete control of access.

Content Area/Grade Level

Grades 3-5, and Middle School

Lesson Ideas

Students may assume a character from a book and blog as if they were that person

Students can role play such as during the Civil War half the class would be American Settlers and half would be family or friends in England (Thanks Jennifer Workman)

Students may travel to different places in the world and describe key features and historic sites (Thanks Leighann Reynolds)

Students could complete book reports

Students could reflect on an activity

Students could respond to a discussion question

Tip

Teacher will need to set up the account, add students, and set up student passwords.